Six Veterans Lost

Coach Hammons announced that six veterans of last year's squad would not return. All were graduated in the spring. They include Zelon Holly, center; Dick Moore, tackle; K. B. Spears, quarterback; Lowell McDaniel, fullback; Earl Ponder, halfback and J. L. Cook, guard.

Moore and Holly plan to enter the University of Arkansas this fall. Future plans of the other four were not known Thursday. Hammons said that prospects were fair for a winning team next season.

Work is being pushed to completion on the $20,000 football stadium, which is expected to be completed for the opening game. No date has been set for the dedication of the new athletic plant.

Hammons requested The Star to ask "if there was anyone who would like to keep the Bobcat?" He is a "nice" pet, the coach concluded.

In Lake Storm

Her night of terror in a life belt on stormy Lake Michigan ended, Helen Thompson, pretty 19-year-old Muskegon, Mich., co-ed, is pictured after she had struggled ashore near Stevensville, Mich., to be reunited with her father. When a squall overturned their 18-foot sailboat, the father managed to cling to the craft until rescued, but the girl was swept away and forced to float and swim by turns until she reached shore.

Bailey Addresses Hospital Boards

Executive Asserts That Future Is Bright for Arkansas People

BENTON, Ark.—(AP)—Governor Carl E. Bailey said Wednesday "I have been under fire and subjected to constant nagging but regardless of that I know the future is bright for the people of Arkansas."

Addressing approximately 200 members of 68 state hospital and commissions at the state hospital farm colony, he made no reference to the turbulent Arkansas political situation brought about by the death of United States Senator Joseph T. Robinson and Bailey's subsequent nomination for the post by the democratic state committee.

"The institutions of Arkansas are rather a large business enterprise," the governor said. "But they can be so managed that only a small outlay of the taxpayers' cash will be necessary to maintain them. I think the state penitentiary can be made self supporting."

"With $10,000,000 cash in the treasury, and the crop outlook good, we can look forward with a great deal of optimism in Arkansas."

"Most of you men and women here today couldn't be hired but you are glad to make a contribution of your time and effort for the advancement of the state. You typify and personify the very best type of citizenship."

Most of the day was spent in hearing reports from members of each commission, after a chicken dinner was served in one of the hospital cafeterias.

New Soil Project Receives Approval

New Demonstration Area Covers 25,000 Acres in Texas

FORT WORTH, Texas.—(AP)—The soil conservation service of the department of agriculture Wednesday announced approval by the secretary of agriculture of a new demonstration area covering approximately 25,000 acres in Wilbarger county.

The new area, the fourteenth established in Texas, included the watershed of Adams creek.

H. H. Bennett, chief of the service, said land conditions and erosion problems in the area were typical of those existing in large part of the rolling plains soil region of Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

Expect to Adjourn Within Next Three Weeks, Says Solon

Final Action on Wage, Hour Bill Is Expected This Week

BILL IS DEBATED

Vermont Republican Asserts Measure Would Hurt Agriculture

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Majority Leader Rayburn told the house Thursday that congress should be able to adjourn in three weeks.

"Unless there is a tie up on the court bill in the senate by something arising to call a halt we can finish all of this legislative program in three weeks," Rayburn said.

"There is a degree of certainty that we can adjourn at that time and not be forced into a special session between now and December," he continued.

He spoke of prospects of final senate action this week on the wage and hour bill and the housing legislation, and on the court bill next week.

Measure Attacked

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator George, democrat of Georgia, told the senate Thursday that standards provided in the administration's wage and hour bill were "poetry and nothing but poetry."

Senator Austin, republican of Vermont, who preceded George, said the bill would put a strait jacket on labor and would mean an economic loss for agriculture.

The wage and hour bill is known as the Black-Connery measure.

New Provision in Bill

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A labor leader turned legislator succeeded in writing into the wage-hour bill a provision permitting a board to fix minimum wages as high as 70 cents an hour and a maximum work week as short as 35 hours.

The house labor committee approved the provision, which members said had been prepared by Representative Wood (D., Mo.), longtime president of the Missouri State Federation of Labor.

The proposal is a major change from the wage-hour bill as it is now being debated in the senate. Under the latter measure the administrative board could not compel payment of more than 40 cents an hour, and could not reduce the work week below 40 hours.

The change led to immediate predictions that the bill would be defeated.

The senate, debating its own form of wage-hour bill, heard Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.), object that it would give an administrative board "life or death" authority over industry.

Warning colleagues that "the American system of industry may be at stake," Vandenberg said the bill involved "power over price fixing — power over the very creation and existence of jobs."

"The legislation, he contended, might place industry in a 'straight-jacket,' and when its pressing need is for 'a period of adjustment' to the Wagner labor law."

"There is such a thing as economic indigestion," he declared. "There is also such a thing as economic suicide."

He was interrupted several times by questions. Senator Tydings (D., Md.), Senator Borah (R., Idaho), Senator George (D., Ga.) and Senator Bridges (R., N. H.) were among those who proposed that flat statutory regulations should be imposed, at least with regard to hours, instead of leaving the matter to the administrative board.

4 Killed in Sedan and Truck Wreck

Trapped in Vehicles, Men Drenched With Flaming Gasoline

WICHITA FALLS, Texas.—(AP)—Four men lost their lives in a highway accident involving a gasoline laden truck and a light sedan 10 miles south of Windhorst.

Death in each instance apparently resulted from burns, as the men were trapped in their vehicles by flaming gasoline after the collision.

All the victims except one, Elvie C. Brannen, 18, of Worth Worth, were dead when removed from the wreckage. Brannen, although conscious when removed, died a short time later in a hospital at Archer City. He said he was asleep in the truck at the time of the crash and could not explain how the accident happened.

The other victims were: Harles Moffitt, 25, Fort Worth; E. E. Brumley, oil field driller of Bryson; Lewis Beck, 25, oil field worker of Bryson.

The truck, driven by Moffitt, left a refinery in Wichita Falls about midnight, and was going in the direction of Worth Worth where Moffitt and a brother, V. A. Moffitt, operated a filling station.

Brumley and Beck were riding in the automobile, traveling toward Wichita Falls.

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Dr. W. B. Grayson, state health officer, said Thursday there was "a definite abatement of the infantile paralysis outbreak in the state."

Paralysis Fight

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—President Roosevelt has taken steps to expand the nationwide program of infantile paralysis prevention and immunization. His birthday ball commission for infantile paralysis research said Wednesday trustees of the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation were working at his request on the enlargement program.

Mr. Roosevelt, a sufferer from infantile paralysis for more than 15 years, praised the agency's work and said the prevention battle must go forward on all fronts.

The commission's final report of the 1935 ball showed $24,000 had been granted for paralysis research to 15 colleges, universities, and other organizations. This represented 30 per cent of the total funds raised. The remaining 70 per cent is turned over to local communities to assist paralysis victims.

New York University received the largest grant, $54,000.

Trio Is Arrested for Investigation

Three Youths Held at Fort Smith With Stolen Automobile

FORT SMITH, Ark.—(AP)—County officers held three youths for investigation here Wednesday night after their arrest south of the city in an automobile which Sheriff Jack Pace said they admitted was stolen in Texas.

Officers halted the youths after Sheriff Pace received a telephone call from Waldron. In the car the officers found a double-barrel shotgun, a single-barrel gun, copies of Louisa M. Alcott's "Little Women" and Zane Grey's "Last of the Plainsmen," a Bowie knife, photographs and clothing.

The officers quoted the youths as saying they took a camera, a shotgun and some food from a farmhouse south of Waldron Wednesday afternoon.

One of the youths told officers he was from Dayton, Ohio; another from Houston, Texas, and the third from Leager, Tenn.

Sheriff Pace said they will be held while officers investigate their recent activities. He said automobile theft charges probably would be filed against them Thursday.

Thousands Killed in Tientsin Area by Bombing Planes

Lives of Americans and Other Foreigners Are Imperilled

SITUATION IS ACUTE

Literal Death Struggle Between Armies of China and Japan

TIENSIN, China.—(AP)—Bomb-made flames crackled through sections of this tenuous North China commercial mart and many of its outlying villages Thursday night in the wake of Japanese air raiders.

Chinese troops, holding grimly to this Japanese military headquarters, declared that thousands of non-combatant men, women and children were killed and injured.

Lives of Americans and other foreigners were imperilled.

There are 23 United States military personnel and dependents and 483 civilians registered in Tientsin, plus 750 American officers and their men.

By the Associated Press

The lives of the residents of Tientsin which include many Americans, were imperilled Thursday by a literal death struggle between Chinese and Japanese armies in North China.

The Japanese army, in a drastic effort to rout a Chinese attack, threatened to drive it from Tientsin, its North China stronghold, looked a devastating aerial bombardment on the city.

Japanese officers declared that the acute situation compelled them to ignore "earlier assurances not to expose the city's foreign residents to peril."

Leaders Announce Legislative Plan

Three Major Items Remain for Congress to Settle

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and his leaders from Capitol Hill worked out Wednesday an elastic legislative program expected to keep congress in session at least two weeks longer.

With Senator Barkley, the majority leader, Speaker Bankhead and Representative Rayburn, democratic leader of the house, the chief executive went over the "entire legislative situation."

Barkley later listed three items as definitely on the program for the senate: The wage and hour bill, low-cost housing legislation, and the modified court bill—with some other legislation probable by late fall.

One of these measures, the leaders disclosed, is a bill to continue control of sugar marketings, and, in addition, Barkley said an opportunity will be given for a motion to take up the anti-lynching bill.

For the house, Rayburn listed the same program with the addition of a bill to discourage tax evasion, and a crop insurance bill which the senate already has approved. The house passed the anti-lynching bill several months ago.

"Do you think you can adjourn in two weeks?" Barkley was asked.

"I'd hate to guess we would adjourn in two weeks," he replied, with a weary wave of the hand.

In answer to questions, the senator said suggestions for a special session of Congress in October were touched upon briefly but nothing definite was done.

Earlier, the path to adjournment was cleared of one bulky obstacle, by an agreement in the house to postpone from legislation until next year.

Andrew W. Drennan, operator of the grocery, fired several shots at the automobile in which the robber fled.

Keith was armed with a pistol when arrested. Martin said Keith told him he served a term in the Arkansas boys industrial school, 18 months in federal prison and two years in the Texas penitentiary.

Best-Dressed Woman

BY HELEN WELSHIMER

COPYRIGHT, 1937, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CHAPTER I

Outside a storm was raging. Even in the velvet recesses of her dressing room at the most exclusive couturier's in New York, Judith Irving felt the tremendous rhythm, the dawning, the grandeur of it. Now the slim white buildings that barricaded the horizon were slashed with rain, and the tip of the Empire State building caught lightning and flung it like a slim green banner of fire.

Green fire. . . Judith looked down at the dinner jacket she wore, a jacket whose vivid green was a bright light against the storm-black of the heavy crepe dress. There was a similarity. . .

From the striking cheval mirrors in the dressing room, she watched her striking, slender, black-haired selves walk back and forth. Tomorrow the newspapers would announce that Mrs. Philip Godfrey Irving, had paid $800 for that jacket, that she had purchased five other jackets as costly—one in silver, one in Coronation pink, one in royal gold, a blue that was slippery and a white that was dull and powdery. Best dressed woman in America!

Best dressed woman in the world, some artists and stylists said.

Suddenly, with the swift, lithe grace that distinguished her, she seated herself before the mirrors, studied her effect. There was a light knock on the door. She turned casually. It would be only Annette, with the pale blue evening dress adorned with scarves of long flame crepe which she would wear to dinner and the theater tonight.

"Come in," she said quietly, no hint of disturbance in her voice.

It wasn't Annette. It was the woman about whom she had been thinking when she sat down to study herself before the mirrors.

"Darling, I'm stealing your husband for an hour or two," the newcomer said gaily but her eyes weren't laughing. "You don't mind, do you?"

Judith wanted to say: "Do I mind? I mind so much that I have to clench my hands to keep from telling you what I think of you! I mind so much that I can't see why Phil wants to be bored for one half second." But she didn't. Instead, she answered easily and nonchalantly:

"He told me. He said he was having tea with a beautiful woman who wanted help about investments, and I guessed you. Have a good time and rescue him from the cinnamon bun. He's the handsomest man I know but the waistline may creep out on him."

When Mrs. Rogers had gone, and Judith was dressed in her brown wool ensemble whose jacket of hyacinth blue had butterflies done in warmer colors, she seated herself once more at her mirror. Intently she looked into her own cloudy gray eyes.

Phil—Phil. He was hers. That is, as much as one human being could belong to another. It had been that way for six years now. They didn't just love each other—they liked each other, which was even more important.

Phil. . . He wasn't handsome. Rugged was a better word. Tall, broad shouldered, slim waisted, with rough-edged blond hair and blue eyes that some seafaring relative had given him. He had worked his way through college where he had been an All-American football star. A wealthy grandfather, who disinherited

EVANSTON, Ill.—(P)—Residents on the three-block stretch called Simpson street petitioned city councilmen to change the name of their thoroughfare to Windsor street "just because."

When the council got the petition the mayor could not restore order for five minutes. Some of the petitioners told the council the Duke and Duchess of Windsor romance gave them the idea. They thought the new name would attract people. Others thought it "punsense" and "foolish," but the council ordered a resolution drawn changing the name.

Doesn't Blow Horn on 17,000 Mile Trip

Says Over Use of Horn Tends to Confuse and Hurry Traffic

By J. M. CRAWFORD
Chief Engineer Chevrolet Division
General Motors Corporation

Only a few days ago, the newspapers carried a story about a man who had made a 17,000-mile motor trip without once blowing his horn. This driver emphasized the point that he handled his car in such a way as to obviate the need of warning signals at any time. And in spite of the fact that all cars have horns as standard equipment today, his example is one which the average motorist could profitably study and heed.

Driving under the traffic conditions which prevail in most places today, is a job which requires the undivided attention of the man or woman at the wheel. The modern car is built to respond quickly to the various controls; but the controls themselves still have to be operated by human agency; and it is just as vital as it ever was that the driver concentrate on driving. He can do this best if he maintains a calm state of mind. And it is hard to remain calm and cool when horns are screaming on all sides.

There can be no denial that the over-use of horns runs counter to the interests of safety. For one thing, it is a "far-from-soothing" influence. It tends to confuse and hurry traffic. It reflects the impatience of the horn-tooter, and communicates that impatience to others. Startled by the sound of a horn at close quarters, a motorist will frequently pull over too suddenly, endangering his own car and others. Or if he reacts in the other of the two most common ways and gets angry, he will probably refuse to get over at all, and you have one of those private feuds which often lead to "cutting-around," and frequently end in mishaps.

I have seen a driver, rushed by an insistent horn behind him, pull out into heavy traffic without a proper wait, and damage his own car and another, while the horn-blower took advantage of the confusion and went his merry way. And almost everybody has seen a driver, startled by a blast from the rear, swerve so suddenly as to endanger himself and others as well.

Proper use of the horn would probably be more general, if every driver would remember that others on the streets naturally judge him largely by the way he drives, and especially by his horn technique, since that comes forcibly to their attention via the ear. The use of a warning signal when about to pass is legal and proper; but there is no reason why it should be an insistent, ear-splitting blast that says: "Out of my way! Here I come!" Neither is there justification for that other practice, prevalent in some sections, of leaning hard on the horn button when the lights change from red to green, to hasten the starting of the cars up in front.

The horn is a useful accessory, and one that should be kept in order. Whether or not it makes it full contribution to the safety and pleasure of driving depends upon the restraint and judgment with which it is used.

Carson and Davis Bout Is Feature

Local Negroes to Go Five Rounds at Stadium Thursday Night

D. K. Carson, 171-pound negro fighter who has been showing rapid development in the past few weeks, is scheduled to meet Edmund Davis, 182-pounder, in the feature event of the South Walnut street all-fight card Thursday night. The fight will be five-rounds.

Pinkie Carrigan will meet Sam Willison of Sheppard in a four-round fight. Both are negroes.

Melton Powell of Patmos, who gave local fans a surprise in holding Tootsie Cargile to a draw in last week's showing here, will meet Marvin Powell of Guernsey in a scheduled three-round bout.

The Patmos youth accepted the fight to help him get in better condition for a return bout with Cargile next week. Joe Wadley, Alton CCC recruit, meets Albert Johnson, also of the Alton camp, in the opening three-round preliminary.

Dalton Hulsey of Washington will appear in a three-round scrap against Joe Turney of the Alton camp.

It was doubtful Thursday noon whether Tootsie Cargile would go through with his scheduled bout with Wayne Lewis of Rossie. Cargile injured his hand in a work-out Wednesday.

BEST SIGNAL-STEALER

Del Baker, who caught for the Detroit Tigers two decades ago and is now managing the Bengals during Mickey Cochrane's absence, is the best signal-stealer and one of the finest coaches in baseball. Baker's uncanny ability to detect what the opposing pitcher is going to throw has been a great aid to Hank Greenberg and other Jungle Cat sluggers.

KRENN

National League pennant the following season.

The trainer is a psychologist, osteopath, professional sympathizer, father, confessor, chiropractor, and medic all rolled into one.

Big league players are most temperamental cusses and touchy about their salary soupones. Each has to be handled differently. They come to the trainer with everything in the book, too, and a lot that isn't in the book.

Some of their ailments are imaginary—especially sore arms as in the case of pitchers. The trainer must understand all this and not offend the player or the player will lose his confidence in the trainer.

Trainers don't use much liniment or save any more in giving rub-downs. Just plain massages. They do their most work in the spring and pitchers, of course, are the most frequent visitors to the trainer's table.

"It's pretty tough work," says Trainer Earl Painter of the Yankees. "It wears you out rubbing down those fellows all the time. In fact, sometimes I get a sore arm myself."

Buffalo's 8-Day Food Strike Ends

Compromise Contract Is Ratified—City to Get Groceries

BUFFALO, N. Y. — (AP) — Striking truck drivers have unanimously accepted a compromise contract reached with wholesale grocery merchants and ended the most serious phase of Buffalo's 8-day food embargo.

They had agreed to go back to work Thursday and rush new supplies to grocery store shelves empty of many staple foods.

The ratification was voted at a strikers' mass meeting, where 300 of the estimated 1,000 striking drivers heard details of the compromise and they rose to their feet and shouted approval.

Negotiators for the union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, and wholesalers who were forced to close down when the drivers walked out, agreed on terms of the truce late Wednesday.

The compromise provided that truckers shall go back to work and rush new supplies to store shelves empty of many staple groceries.

The compromise provided a modified closed shop, five per cent pay increase for all employees who have not been advanced since last March 1, a $25.20 minimum for unskilled workers, a 48-hour week, time and a half pay for overtime work, and one-week vacations with pay.

A Quiet Convention — for Deaf

National conventions usually are noisy affairs, but the Chicago convalesce where the pictures were taken, was the quietest meeting of the season. It was the 18th triennial convention of the National Association of the Deaf. Although handicapped by their affliction, the 3000 delegates managed to enjoy themselves immensely. At top may be seen part of the crowd at the dance, where tempo was furnished mostly by the vibration of the big bass drum. At left center Marcia Dodge, Duluth, and Carabelle Ursin, Chicago, are carrying on an animated conversation in sign language, probably over the problem of doll motherhood. In the lower photo Daniel J. Cloud, superintendent of the school for the deaf at Jacksonville, Ill., is shown, right, delivering the invocation, while at his left the Rev. George Filch is acting as interpreter. Miss Virginia Dreis, Chicago, is pictured, right, as she "sang" the "Star-Spangled Banner" in sign language.

Taxi Driver Found Guilty at El Dorado

A. T. Wheatley to Serve
Five Years in Slaying of Policeman

EL DORADO, Ark. — (AP) — A circuit court jury late Wednesday night convicted A. T. Wheatley, El Dorado, taxi driver, of second degree murder and fixed his punishment at five years in prison for the slaying a week ago of Policeman Jim A. Yocom.

Wheatley was accused of driving the taxi in which Thomas Hutto, convicted slayer of Yocom, attempted to flee El Dorado following a $60 drug store holdup. Yocom was shot to death when he attempted to arrest Hutto.

Circuit Judge L. S. Britt deferred sentence until later this week.

Wheatley was accused of being the driver for Thomas J. Hutto, Dallas, convicted Thursday of killing Yocom. The jury that tried Hutto recommended he be given a death sentence.

The taxi driver claimed he picked Hutto up as a passenger in routine fashion and following his orders drove him to a local drug store. Hutto robbed the store of $60 and was fleeing in the taxi when Yocom and two other officers overtook him. Yocom was slain and Hutto wounded in an exchange of shots.

Wheatley fled during the shooting and was arrested two miles from the scene.

Hamp Bailey, Little, La., will be tried Thursday on two charges of robbery in connection with the holdup of grocery stores here and in Snickover 10 days ago.

The PAYOFF

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service

If, as he claims, Rogers Hornsby "knows a thing or two about what's going on with the St. Louis Browns," it strikes me that Judge Landis ought to have him tell it to the public.

Hornsby's parting shot, in which he names names, strengthens the supposition that there was vastly more to his summary dismissal than was revealed.

"Now that my financial matters are strengthened, I may have something to say about my case, and I might do some talking about some of the players," asserts the despised manager. "When I say 'the players' I mean Jim Bottomley and Rolfe Hensley.

"I'm not sure at Bottomley for getting my job. Someone had to become manager when Donald Browns became dissatisfied with my services, but Jim owns a lot to me. He practically was washed up as a player when I made the deal for him with the Cincinnati Reds a year ago this past spring.

"Jim and I got along swell, all right, and if he is smart he will not do too much popping off. Mr. Barnes might not think so well of some of his players if I start talking.

Bottomley Should Speak Up

"I hold no grudge against anyone, although despite my iron-clad contract Mr. Barnes called me into his office and he made me a lot of infernal me of my immediate release. Why, he didn't even give me the customary notice of 10 days. A hush league player gets that much consideration, but I've been fired off better ball clubs than the Browns, and the club had to pay what was coming to me."

Bottomley, successor to Hornsby, hasn't done too much popping off to date, although Hornsby's remarks

Lets Nails Grow to Prove Will

There'll be no more of this kind of nail-biting for Mrs. A. A. Schneider of Memphis, Tenn. In an attempt to discipline herself and demonstrate to her own satisfaction that she really had some will power, Mrs. Schneider went to the other extreme and started to let her nails grow. Soon she claimed the longest fingernails in Memphis. Some of them grew well over an inch in length.

Patrick Henry, 18-Year-Old Dog, Thrives On Candy and Ice Cream

CINCINNATI, O. — (AP) — Patrick Henry, it seems, cares not for death, but is concerned only with liberty—and ice cream.

Patrick Henry is only a German shepherd, but at 18, says Harry Lahke his druggist owner, is "just about the best hold-up insurance I've got."

Pat wears 15 annual license tags on his shoulder harness. Others, Lahke explains, have been lost. Registration papers "that long" with Lahke extending his arms as if telling a fish yarn—further attest to the dog's antiquity.

Besides possessing a child-like fondness for ice cream and candy, the dog is almost human, Lahke boasts, in his fastidious "demand" for cleanliness.

"He has to have his face washed every morning and dried with a clean towel," the owner says.

"As regularly as I go to the bathroom to shave, in comes Pat, to be washed. He'll sit and watch until the last bit of lather scrapes off. Then it's his turn. If I get a used towel—nothing doing. If I start out without drying his face, I feel a tug at my wrist, and I've got to go back and finish the job."

might be construed as something of a challenge.

Even loose talk emanating from St. Louis gambling circles certainly merits the attention of Commissioner Landis.

Mighty few seized by the gambling fever confine their wagering to one thing. If you play the ponies, the chances are that you'll wager on baseball, play roulette, deal the dominoes, or spit at a crick, looking for and playing the percentage.

Betting at Ball Parks

There is 10 times more money being bet at certain major league parks today than there was years ago when Sport Sullivan made book in Boston and Charley Musconi ran through the right field stands in Philadelphia with a money bag around his waist betting on the result of each pitch.

Roy Thomas, the old Phillies' outfielder, finally fixed Musconi, by the way. The customers bet that Thomas would foul the ball off, and Thomas fouled them off until Musconi tossed his empty money bag out into the street.

It long since has been proved that gambling is as unhealthy for baseball as it is necessary to racing.

Yet nothing is done about the action in the right field pavilion at Sportsman's Park, St. Louis, and other hotbeds of gambling throughout the

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or regular passages with stinging and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lambo, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
